A Message from the Vice-Chancellor

Professor Margaret Gardner

Monash is a large and vibrant university and, as a result, has an impressive range of activities for students to explore and participate in. As a Monash student, you are encouraged to take full advantage of the unparalleled freedom of your university days to discover new ideas and opportunities.

Today, we have approximately 45,000 memberships across our four campuses in the 196 clubs and societies run by our student organisations. By joining one or more of these groups, you will expand your horizons while completing your studies. You can learn new skills, improve your abilities in areas such as leadership and communication, meet like-minded people and develop long-lasting friendships. Taking part in extra-curricular activities can also help prepare you for life after Monash.

I encourage you to read this guide and choose something that interests you. Monash welcomes and celebrates your participation.

Professor Margaret Gardner AC President and Vice-Chancellor

Welcome to the 2022 Clubs Guide

Monash University is home to over 210 unique student-run clubs and societies, each of which contribute to one of the best campus cultures at any Australian University.

The 2022 Monash Clubs Guide lists all of the clubs and societies affiliated to the Monash Student Association's (MSA) Clubs & Societies Division, Monash Parkville Student Union, MONSU Caulfield, Monash Student Union Peninsula (MONSU Peninsula), and the sporting clubs facilitated by TeamMONASH. This cross-campus collaboration provides greater accessibility to students who study cross-campus.

Now that you're here at Monash, you are encouraged to get the most out of your university experience by joining in with activities that build on your academic experiences and provide opportunities to meet people with similar interests. Joining a club is one of the best ways to develop skills, meet new people and make lifelong friendships. It does take some initial courage and effort to get involved in campus life, however, it will make your time at Monash all the more valuable and memorable.

WHY SHOULD I JOIN A CLUB?

Joining a club or society at Monash will not only help you make new friends and make your time studying at university more enjoyable, but it can also help to develop both life and vocational skills which can assist with future employment opportunities. Monash College students are also encouraged to join and participate in club events. Clubs and societies offer a range of opportunities including:

Peer Connection - A great way to join a new community and find your home away from home; specifically important for students that have moved away from friends and family.

Networking - Clubs provide many activities that are focused on helping members to develop social and study networks. Clubs also run a number of academic events that provide opportunities to interact with industry professionals.

Health, Fitness and Teamwork - Whether you play sports to get fit, or just enjoy the feeling that being healthy and active gives you, the clubs available through TeamMONASH can help you to achieve your goals.

Community Service - Social welfare clubs provide students with direct opportunities to get involved in community service, both within and outside the Monash community.

Becoming part of a club committee is a highly sought after leadership role that helps build employability skills. By getting involved as an office bearer you will have the opportunity to advance your public speaking skills and confidence, develop 'hands-on' event skills and gain valuable leadership and teamwork skills.

HOW DO I JOIN A CLUB?

If you are interested in joining one of the listed clubs, follow the relevant link to online club listings where you can get further information and contact details.

Contact the club directly via their email or Facebook page, attend campus orientation events in February, or attend a club event in person to get involved!

HOW DO I START A NEW CLUB?

Are you and your friends interested in forming a new club, or putting together a new sports team?

For non-sporting clubs, contact the student association based on your campus. They will discuss your options and advise you on the formal application process.

To learn more about the opportunities available through sporting clubs and TeamMONASH, contact the team via their website or visit one of their hubs at the Clayton, Caulfield or Peninsula campuses.
